Multnomah DA's Charles Weiss and Mike Schmidt, Riis Larsen

It's actually happening now. What was once dismissed as paranoia is now reality. Americans are now being found guilty of crimes for misgendering transgender individuals. Women now have to accept biological men in the women's bathroom and locker rooms or else they will be convicted of crimes.

In Portland, Oregon (of course), a Multnomah County jury has convicted Cassandra McIntyre, a natural woman, of harassment and bias crimes for taking offense to Riia Larsen using the women’s bathroom at a Portland bar.

12 Today we are selecting a trial jury for the criminal case of State of Oregon v. Cassandra
13 McIntyre. The state is represented by Charles Weiss and Cristal Jones and the defendant is represented by 14 Henry Oostrom-Shah.

15 A. The defendant is charged with the offenses of Harassment and Bias Crime in the Second 16 Degree, alleged as follows: Cassandra Marie McIntyre, on or about December 27, 2022, in the County of 17 Multnomah, State of Oregon, did unlawfully and intentionally harass and annoy Riis Larsen, by subjecting
18 Riis Larsen to offensive physical contact, contrary to the statutes in such cases made and provided and
19 against the peace and dignity of the State of Oregon, and Cassandra Marie McIntyre, on or about December
20 27, 2022, in the County of Multnomah, State of Oregon, did unlawfully, intentionally and because of the 21 defendant's perception of the gender identity of Riis Larsen, subject Riis Larsen to offensive physical
22 contact, contrary to the statutes in such cases made and provided and against the peace and dignity of the 23 State of Oregon.

24 B. To these offenses, the defendant has entered a plea of not guilty. A plea of not guilty denies 25 that the defendant is guilty of the offense. Under our system of justice, the defendant is innocent of any
JURY INSTRUCTIONS - 1

1 Oregon law provides that a person commits the crime of bias in the second degree if the
2 person intentionally subjects another person to offensive physical contact because of the person's
3 perception of the other person's gender identity.

4 In this case, to establish the crime of bias in the second degree, the state must prove beyond
5 a reasonable doubt the following elements:

6 (1) The act occurred on or about December 27, 2022;

8 (2) Cassandra McIntyre intentionally subjected Riis Larsen to offensive physical 9 contact; and

10 (3) Cassandra McIntyre committed the offense because of her perception of Riis
11 Larsen's gender identity.

The Oregonian clarifies:

An off-duty bartender who ordered a patron not to use the women's bathroom and shoved the woman when she tried to explain her gender identity was found guilty of second-degree bias crime and harassment charges Wednesday.

The confrontation, captured on surveillance camera footage, showed Cassie McIntyre pushing customer Riis Larsen, a transgender woman, outside the women's restroom at Jake's Place.

Testifying in court Tuesday, Larsen said she had just stepped out of the women's bathroom, a single-user room with a locking door, when McIntyre cornered her and told her she "was a man" and should use the other toilet.

Larsen, 35, said she tried to explain her gender identity but McIntyre, 40, told her to "get out" using an expletive, then shoved her. The video showed the shove but didn't record audio.

Surveillance footage showed both women approaching the on-duty bartender following the brief altercation. Another patron, R.J. Stangland, testified that he could hear McIntyre continuing to use the wrong pronouns for Larsen and saying Larsen should not be allowed to use the women's bathroom.

In her own testimony, McIntyre claimed Larsen had cut in line for the women's bathroom and pushed another regular, who complained. McIntyre said she then intercepted Larsen but didn't understand she was misgendering her.

"I wasn't trying to misgender her — I had to look up what transgender was in the dictionary," McIntyre said. "We were just arguing over spilt milk."

Deputy District Attorney Charlie Weiss prosecuted the case on behalf of elected DA Mike Schmidt, who continually makes national headlines for his embarrassing moves and crackpot "progressive" stances of just letting criminals off the hook by dropping charges on almost everyone. Had McIntyre instead dressed in black bloc, carried a "Black Lives Matter" sign, and smashed in a bunch of windows and assaulted random bystanders, there would have been no charges filed.

Instead, the jury found her guilty of both counts, and determined that a "reasonable" person would not have acted in the same way.

DEFENSE OF PREMISES

- (1) A person in lawful possession or control of premises is justified in using physical force upon another person when and to the extent that the person reasonably believes it necessary to prevent or terminate what she reasonably believes to be the commission or attempted commission of a criminal trespass by the other person in the premises.
- (2) In defending, a person may only use that degree of force which she reasonably believes to be necessary.

The burden of proof is on the state to prove beyond a reasonable doubt that the defense does not apply.

DEFINITION OF "REASONABLE"

- (1) As noted above, Ms. McIntyre's beliefs related to the use of force in defense of premises must be reasonable.
- (2) A belief about the use of force is unreasonable if that belief is a gross deviation from what a reasonable person in Ms. McIntyre's circumstances would have believed.

A grand jury indicted her on the charges last August after only hearing from two witnesses.

Well, they don't have testes that hang out side the body in a sack made of skin...but the ovaries and testes are the same in that they are gonads. What hurts is the hitting of flesh against the pelvic bone. With females, it is smashing a bit of flesh against the bone. With males it is smashing more but already tender flesh against the bone. I have been in the ER where a teste had ruptured due to a blow to that area. Enjoy the visual, guys...lol

The only right that requires anybody else to give up their rights, is the right to a trial by jury. That's the obvious difference between rights and privileges. But children aren't taught the difference between rights and privileges these days, with predictable results.

Mr. Larsen is undermining his own right to be a fruitcake, and will end up lined up in front of a lime filled ditch or in a gulag/concentration camp if he has his way. Unfortunately, a lot of innocent people will be there with him.

The meaning of that saying, "I could indict a ham sandwich," is that indictments are easy, regardless of who's on the grand jury, because of the nature and rules of the proceeding. This woman was convicted and sentenced by a jury, a whole other ballgame. That the DA would prosecute, and a jury would convict, is the real outrage here.

I'd like to know more about the bar and its' clientele. It's likely Mr. Larsen, being a self proclaimed, revolutionary, went to that bar to instigate a confrontation, and just such a case.

Morality is the ESSENCE of law, or, the reason for law is to implement morality. Someone's morality has to be used to define law. Christian morality used to be the morality used to define law in America. It is now humanist/satanist morality that is being used to make law in America. "Separation of Church and State" has only been used to remove Christian morality from making law. The humanist/satanist "church" has filled the moral vacuum. "Separation of 'church' and state" is impossible. Someone's morality has to be used to make law and it ain't Christianity anymore. "Separation of church and state" is just another hoax being used to manipulate mankind to their destruction.

If you whip out your junk in a WOMEN'S bathroom, you're in the wrong bathroom.

This ain't rocket science, it's basic, BASIC biology.

Admittedly, Cadaver Joe's DEI token nominee to the Supreme Court, Ketanji Cornrows, won't even guess what the definition of woman is because she isn't a biologist

Which was kind of a funny thing to say, given that the biologist would be very clear that a female is an organism that contributes the egg (ovum) in sexual reproduction. The ovum comes from an ovary. If you have or ever had an ovary, you are female; if you are a human adult female, you are a woman.

It is not biologists that have trouble with this.

Men should use men's bathrooms and women should use the women's.

And it's right for a man to want to protect his wife. We agree on certain things. This I don't agree on, calling men's parts junk. Those who are women, should be happy to be women. Everyone who's a man, also be glad. And don't go thinking you should have your body parts removed because you view them as "junk." Cancer could be called "junk." A foot so infected with gangrene it can't be saved perhaps could be called junk. Normal male body parts are not junk.

I am offended by Brock Simmons, the person who wrote this article. That man dressed as a woman is NOT A WOMAN and should not be referenced as a woman, Ms. or female. It is a man masquerading as a female. It is funny how humans can be so stupid. I took my female dog to the vet the other day and indicated she wanted to be called him or he or sir" because she was transgender. To please only use the proper pronouns when referring to my dog. The people waiting laughed out loud because of my "request." We have lost our collective minds when we refer to the mentally ill and their sickness as being normal human beings. We are bowing to the god of insanity.

Homosexuality correctly used to be classed as a mental disorder a few decades ago. Now most have been gradually conditioned by LGBT change agents into finding nothing wrong with it. So why are we complaining about transgender weirdness ? The morally weak will accept this as normal too, eventually. Unless we wake up and stop it. .

The portion where he is called she/her is quoted from the original Oregonian. I don't think we can fault Brock for that.

I'm allowed to be biased. You're allowed to be biased. We're even allowed to say mean, hurtful things. This is why the categories of "hate" crime and "hate" speech should not exist. They are based on feelings and not logic.

It's more accurately called "hate crime enhancement." It's as though you are even more dead if you are killed because of a certain reason as opposed to just a "regular" killing.

Same as 'not in his right mind at the time of the merder'. Well no kidding. No one in their right mind commits merder. Men who go to war kil the enemy. Two different words for two different actions. Lawyers perverted the truth because people refuse to admit their own guilt.

"Hate speech" doesn't exist in US law.

A crime can only be considered a "hate crime" if it's already a crime. Being hateful isn't illegal. Assaulting someone is. Assaulting someone on the basis of their race or religion or national origin or orientation or gender identity may bring on stricter penalties for what was already criminal.

Never. U will never force me to say something I don't want to say or vice versa. What is happening in this country has been in the works for years and if people don't realize it soon, we are doomed. Never thought I'd see the day that this would happen in the USA. And it's coming from the inside.

How are people so ignorant and stupid?

Its terrible, I have been to Portland and Seattle. It is a beautiful section of the country. I am not sure how the people got so turned around but unfortunately I don't think it is salvageable. I think if I lived there, I would have to leave. I say this because I was in the same situation. I left Maryland where I was raised for Florida.
