A controversial business has recently opened its doors in Atkinson, New Hampshire, igniting a mix of curiosity and concern among the town's residents.

The Diaper Spa positions itself as a “safe and judgment-free” zone to nurture and pamper diaper lovers and enthusiasts through deeply immersive experiences.

The spa opens its doors wide to individuals over 21 who embrace the comfort and security of diapers.

“The Diaper Spa is here to serve all diaper-wearing individuals who seek acceptance, respite, and care. We embrace 21+ year-old individuals from all races, genders, sexual persuasions, and preferences. We celebrate the genuine you. We are LGBTQIA++ friendly and affirming. We are trauma-informed. Only guests over 21 yo can consent and receive our very elite 1:1 care,” according to its website.

What is a visit like at the Diaper Spa?

Of course, every visit, just like every visitor, is different. However, we tailor our highly specialized one-on-one care experience entirely to each of our unique guests. We start with a discussion to confirm goals, boundaries, and consent. We discuss and agree upon a blueprint for the session. We perform and play out the session as decided and then enjoy aftercare.

Imagine a safe and judgment-free session where you can openly express yourself and partake of your favorite activities, meals, snacks, and nurturing. Activities range from playtime, story time, nap time, cuddle time, changing time, coloring, nursery rhymes, and sing-a-longs.

More luxurious services include Hyponoregression, Yoga, Massage, Makeovers, and even piggy paint!

We send a snack or meal menu before your special visit so that we will have goodies especially for you. Our menu will always change to keep things interesting.

In the summer, you can play with your water wings and floaties poolside, picnic under the tree with your teddy bear, play marbles on the patio, or swing on the front porch swing and serve tea to your dollies on the porch. In the winter, we can make snow angels, build snowmen, drink hot cocoa from beneath clouds of whipped cream and sprinkles, and decorate gingerbread men or sugar cookies.

For weekend/vacation or B&B stays, you may enjoy a mountain trip to collect leaves or pine cones, travel to the beach to play in the waves, build a sandcastle, or search for

The beaches and mountains are a brief and scenic car ride away.

What should I bring?

We focus on the entire sensory experience, and our nursery smells like baby powder and warm cookies. We have soft blankies and stuffies, a sound machine that makes womb noises, nature sounds, or plays lullabies, and a lovely warm glowing night light. We have a Bluetooth speaker to play soothing music, a wet wipe warmer, a bottle warmer, and an oil warmer. We have tons of snacks to keep tummies happy, too.

If you need more color and stimulation or just the comfort of your things, please bring your favorite blankie, stuffie, onesie, or even your favorite diapers, but we will have your size available for your stay.

The new business has not been warmly received by all.

However, the spa's proximity to a children's park has raised concerns among some Atkinson residents, fearing that it caters to a sexual fetish that could potentially endanger children.

Kayla Gallagher, a mother of three who started a change.org petition, expressed her discomfort with the spa's location and stated that her family would no longer use the nearby park.

"As residents and patrons of this community, we feel compelled to voice our collective concern and dissatisfaction regarding potential incidents that pose a threat to the safety and well-being of our community members, particularly our children," the petition, written by Kayla Gallagher, reads.

"We strongly ask a firm and continued rejection for this business to operate in our community."

Other community members, like Mike Vigliotta, echoed these sentiments to WHDH 7News, questioning the types of individuals the spa may attract.

"I'm sure there's a lot of kids that live around here, and what type of people are going to do that?" he said. "People who are looking at children or being children by wearing diapers and being treated like a baby. That kind of concerns me. Who knows what that leads too."

Dr. Colleen Ann Murphy, the spa's owner and a board-certified integrative medicine physician and sexologist, defends her business as a therapeutic outlet for individuals dealing with trauma.

"It helps them process whatever trauma it was," Murphy said. "A lot of times it's childhood trauma when they were in diapers or just getting out of diapers and they want to feel that safety that they had before that."

"I don't ask them to understand," she said.

"You know it would be nice if they did but we're not all going to understand other people's needs and lifestyle."

What if God is waiting on us to save ourselves? After all we allowed this to happen. Isn't it our job to fix it

If not for Globalism and its Government being a road sign on the Prophetic road to Jesus's return I'd join you in a heartbeat.

But it is, and your attempts are based upon worldly desires and not Godly ones.

We Christians are to "be in the world but not of it".

But I do understand the pull of the flesh, I can relate to the almost overwhelming desire to set this all right.

Depends upon the manner of that fight .. spiritual warfare is always a positive, prayer is the manner of it.

But if you asked me to take up arms OFFENSIVELY I can not now do so. I can and shall DEFEND, but I will not ATTACK.

I shall not apologize for doing God's Will on the matter, nor shall I apologize for knowing what His Will is while amongst those who do not but say they do. (not meaning you personally, please do not take offense unless the Holy Spirit convicts you and you rebel against Him).

"... manner of that fight." and "... to take up arms OFFENSIVELY I can not now do so."

Are we not under attack? Isn't the best defense a good offense?

I agree that violence should be the last resort. And there are all manners of ways to go on the offensive. But you do say "... not now do so." What would be the catalyst that would cause you to go on the offensive using arms? Or is there ever a time that you would?

You say you will not attack, but your prior words "not now" referring to "offensively" seem to contradict.

Looking back at history when wars were being fought, or oppression of the people was waged, the tyrants would not have been defeated without proactive aggression against said tyrants when the opportunity arose. Currently we are under attack. Be it with the use of biological weapons or outright physical assault. Granted we should try whatever peaceful means to remedy this and seek justice, but we are finding that those means so far are at best fruitless, and at worst working against us.

Not so sure that you stated your position clearly. That's why I asked for clarification. As your words seem to be somewhat contradictory.

Not arguing any of your moral positions. Agree with them wholeheartedly. Just wanting to know, are you promoting pure pacifism? Should we be thrown to the lions without fighting the people throwing us in the arena?

 Defending . What did I say about defending ?
What is the difference between murder (which ALWAYS occurs offensively in war) an killing in defense in Gods eyes ?
I did state I clearly, you just can't see it.

I will DEFEND.
I will not MURDER.

No, we DID allow this. We allowed it by becoming victims of comfort. We went fishing instead of attending meetings. We got lazy and thought all we had to do was vote to fulfill our obligations.

Our Founding Fathers said you needed 3-things to keep the Republic.

- 1 - You have to remain moral.
- 2 - You needed to be well educated.
- 3 - You needed to be the vigilant.

All three of those have been under attack.

Yes, we did "allow this to happen". But only in the sense that we would have to take away others' right of free will. Those who make a deal with evil must face their own consequences. As the parable with the virgins shows; we cannot bring others along on the road to salvation; each must come on their own. And what if this is indeed the end time? Can we, in our puny efforts, stand against the will of God?

He is coming, but if we are not found in Him doing His business when He returns then we are LITERALLY toast.

He's not coming to establish His kingdom HERE as some false teachers teach , but to destroy this earth with FIRE at His coming.

Those who are His, both the dead and the living get taken UP into the air to join Him.. the earth is destroyed, we then spend the next 1,000 years in Heaven... after which we descend to the NEW earth in the NEW Jerusalem which descends down to the NEW earth from Heaven with us inside of it w/ Jesus .

There's no saving this place, just now we should earnestly saving those who will be last but first ..there's yet Gods work to be about let us not be found wanting in it !

I think their reasoning goes something like this:

If Biden can do it, we can do it!

Who says the economy isn't booming?
See, under Bidumb new businesses are pooping up ... ah, popping-up all over the place.

Will they have to change them too, in case they make boom boom!

WTF

Next thing from the WH will be equal rights for diaper wearers regardless of age. Free diaper machines in every restroom in every company in the nation and every ELHI school and university.
